I have just recently completed a preaching series through the Epistle to the Philippians. The Apostle Paul stresses the importance of unity among the people of God. He teaches that the lack of humility prevents us from experiencing the unity that would give us an effective witness for Christ in the world. After giving the example of the humility of Jesus in his incarnation, we are challenged to be of the same mind. The book ends with the challenge for us to stand fast in the Lord. That means to stand with the Lord and with the people of God that are our co-laborers. One of the applications of the exhortation to Euodias and Syntyche given in 4:2 is that we need to support our brothers and sisters who labor in the Word.

Unity means more than a lack of disagreement. It means that we commit to pray for and support the workers of the Lord as the Lord enables us. The question that we need to ask ourselves is to what extent are we supporting those who labor in the gospel. We can't all go into the urban centers of our country or into the many needy countries of the world but we can all pray for or give to ministries that build the Kingdom of God around the world.

GOGF Ministries has sought to be faithful in this ministry for 49 years. We have prayed that we would be worthy of your support as you seek to stand with co-laborers in the Gospel of our Lord. I recognize that we are in difficult economic times. I understand the challenges that many are facing and hurdles of doing ministry in this environment. But I ask you to please pray and ask God to show you what He wants you to do so that the work can go forward.

Dr. Tony Hart, President

As you get this letter we would be just holding our first convention and we are getting ready to leave for the Pastors conference in Ecuador. I covet your prayers for this mission trip March 15-25. I am excited about the opportunity to teach about 100 leaders that have registered for this conference. This is an opportunity to have tremendous impact on the churches in the Quito area. It is the Lord working through your partnership that makes it all possible.
